THE TRIBAL KNOTS COLLECTION

Growing up in Madhya Pradesh, surrounded by the forests of Kanha and Pench, I was deeply influenced by the art of the Gond and Baiga tribes. Traditionally painted on mud walls, their work draws inspiration from the forests and wildlife around them. This collection reinterprets that visual language through hand-tied knot embroidery, bringing tigers, forest birds and mahua trees to life.

One intricate dot and line at a time, with each piece requiring hundreds of hours of skilled craftsmanship.
